Dietz's Diamond Oil.

WE NOW OFFER TO THE PUBLIC in full confidence a new article of KEROSENE OIL,
Which we warrant in every particular to be Superior to any other Oil ever brought to the San Francisco market. It has been thoroughly tested in all the different Patent Coal Oil Burners, and found to produce
More Light and Burn Longer
by one-third, than any other oil in use.

Among the many advantages of this KEROSENE OIL over other oils is: First, that it is perfectly NON EXPLOSIVE, and can be used with perfect safety in all kinds of LAMPS. Second, It is free from all objectionable and unpleasant smells, and burns with a clear white brilliant flame. We cordially invite the public and FAMILIES to give this Oil a trial and once tried we feel confident it will gain a preference over all other Oil for economy as well as its superior burning qualities.

In order to protect ourselves against Counterfeits we have placed a brand upon each can and case, which will be known as

DIETZ'S DIAMOND OIL.

It is now offered at wholesale and retail at 505 Front street,
Between Washington and Jackson streets,
And at Branch Store, 51 Second street,
... door from Mission, San Francisco.
A. C. DIETZ & CO.

We have on hand a large stock of

THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 26, 1862

Will there be War with England?

This question is often asked. This nation is now looking forward to a period when the Stars and Stripes will float from every battlement in the Republic. The United States will come out of this accursed rebellion possessing a military force and a conscious national power which will not brook insult or wrong from any nation on the earth. In the late difficulties in which the nation has been involved, we have had the sympathies of all European governments with a single exception—that of England. Not content to stand neutral in the case, she has been disposed to throw obstacles in the way of our success, and we even believe that had not our ancient ally France, manifested a disposition to see our Government put down the rebellion, England would have interferred in behalf of the rebels.

A bitter feeling of hostility towards our Government exists among the British aristocracy. They wish to see our Republic divided, and its power destroyed. They hate our growing greatness. They look forward with forebodings to the period when, if our people remain as one, the United States, in arms, arts, commerce, manufactures, agriculture, will overshadow the power "whose throne has withstood the tempests of a thousand years."

In 1809 the British aristocracy, through its Government, sought to divide the United States and to plunge the country into a civil war. This was done in a season of profound peace between the two countries, when it was supposed that the English Government was entirely friendly to that of the United States. John Henry, in 1809, came to the United States as an instrument for this purpose, employed by the British Government. He failed in his purpose, and the British Government, refusing to reward him for his labors, as was promised, disclosed his whole agency and correspondence to the American Secretary of State. Mr. Madison, then President, transmitted the correspondence, with a message to Congress. The British Minister Mr Foster, denied all knowledge of the matter, and pledged himself that his Government would prove its innocence of the charge alleged. Time passed, and this was never done. Five days after his disclaimer, the committee on Foreign Relations, in the House, made a report, embracing the following remarks:

"It may be satisfactory to the House to be informed that the original papers, with the evidences relating to them, in possession of the Executive, were submitted to their examination, and were such as fully to satisfy the Committee of their genuineness." And again: "The transaction disclosed by the President's Message presents to the mind of the Committee conclusive evidence that the British Government, at a period of peace, and during the most friendly professions, have been deliberately and perfidiously pursuing measures to divide these States, and to involve our citizens in all the guilt of treason and the horrors of a civil war—a proceeding, which at all times and among all nations, has been considered as one of the most aggravated character and which ought to be regarded by us with the deepest abhorrence."

In the war message of President Madison to Congress, in 1812, he set forth among the reasons demanding a declaration of war against England, this attempt by her to divide and destroy our Union. He said:

"It has since come into proof that at the very moment when the public Minister was holding the language of friendship and inspiring confidence in the sincerity of the negociation with which he was charged, a secret agent of his Government was employed in intrigues, having for their object a subversion of our Government and a DISMEMBERMENT OF OUR HAPPY UNION."

Another fact in connection with this matter—putting in the nail and clinching it on the charge of British perfidy—is found in a motion made in the British Parliament in 1812, by Lord Holland, and the refusal of that body to take action thereon. His motion was for a call for the correspondence of John Henry with the Government. Lord Lauderdale urged the adoption of the motion that "the United States had no security that there was not then another John Henry in the field." Lord Holland closed the debate in these words:

"His whole object in making the motion was to refute the charge brought against the English Government, if it could be done, and if not, to punish those with whom the guilt lay, but in refusing all inquiry they were giving the world no answer to that charge. They might say in that house it was partly false and partly true, but such allegation was no solemn and authentic disavowal to America or to Europe, and IT REMAINED, THEREFORE UNREFUTED." The House then divided; 27 voted in favor of producing the correspondence and 73 voted against its production, having a majority of 46 in favor of the ministry, and it sought to hush up the matter.

We do not refer to the intrigues of John Henry and the action of the British Government in 1809, as cause, at this time, for feelings of hostility on our part. The war of 1812 gloriously vindicated our national character—struck down her fancied superiority on the ocean, gave confidence and strength to us as a nation—and we hoped had taught England a lesson against interfering in our domestic affairs which she would not forget. In that hope we are disappointed. Recent events show that her aristocracy are as hostile to the existence of this successful Republic as they were fifty years ago.

It has been the policy of the British Government for a long period to create and foster a feeling of rivalship and hatred between the people of our Northern and Southern States. They were satisfied that a division of this Union would cripple our power, and sink us from the condition of one of the first nations of the earth, into that of a smaller and contemptible nation, which, of necessity, would come under her influence. We have, indeed, good reason to believe that the British aristocracy have had much to do with the present rebellion in the South. The Government has seized every occasion to throw difficulties in our way and to work for the success of the rebellion. While she has refused by the Queen's proclamation, to permit arms and munitions of war to be exported from England to the loyal States, she has been constantly permitting the same articles to be shipped directly from her ports to the rebels, on fleet steamboats, so as to be able to run our blockades. This fact is too well known to be questioned. Shouts of rejoicing went up among the aristocracy of England, when the Bermuda and other British vessels succeeded in running our blockades and placing ship loads of arms into the hands of the rebels.

The two heavy Armstrong guns on board the Merrimac and which caused such destruction in our fleet near Fortress Monroe, were English pieces, made in England, and sent to the rebels to be used against our government and people. George Francis Train, in a late speech to a Club in London, in referring to the feats of the Merrimac in the use of the Armstrong gun, said: "By the bye, as your government has a monopoly of that gun, will some of you be kind enough to tell me where the Merrimac got those two Armstrong guns?" SURE ENOUGH, WHERE DID THE MERRIMAC GET THEM? Why, she got them from ENGLAND, and they came out of the hands of the government of England.

And we may say with truth, that the British government have connived at all schemes to furnish the rebels with means for carrying on the rebel war. British vessels with arms and other articles of war, coming from England, have been laying about the West India Islands, with the design of improving any chance that might offer for placing them into the hands of the rebels. And to crown this act of perfidy, a British vessel, the Emilie, loaded with contraband of war material, bound for a rebel port was taken by a Federal ship; a prize crew placed on board of her, and retaken by her original crew, was run into an English port, and the British government, in violation of all national laws, refuses to give up the vessel and cargo to the Federal Government. England wanted the rebels to have these arms. She refuses to yield them to us, to whom they now lawfully belong. Have we any reason to believe that "perfidious Albion," who thus seeks to furnish and often supplies the rebels with arms, does not also furnish the rebel government with money? There are some evidences which go to prove that this is the fact. It has been done secretly, but still it has been done. Thank heaven, the British aristocracy have made and are making poor investments.

We might extend the evidence of British interference in our domestic affairs, it is needless. The government of England claims that her people are the first in power and wealth in the world. She has boastingly said,

> The winds of heaven are Britain's wide domain
> And not a sail but by permission spreads.

She desires to retain her position. Her aristocracy (the lords who riot on the wealth and means which ought to have a more general distribution among her people) in looking into the future, sees in the success of our Government a termination of their aspirations. The United States to them, are the Mordecai that sits at the gate.

A few months since England had made up her mind to make war upon us. An officer of the American Navy had dared to seize on board a British vessel a couple of rebels who had escaped from our shores. It was a wrong act according to the doctrines which had controlled our Government from its organization—but for which the officer who made the seizure, had numerous precedents in English history. It was a wrong act, under our own practices: it was a right one under those of England. Nevertheless England seized upon the circumstance as just cause of war on her part, and at once exhibited her designs. The prompt disavowal of the act by our Government only prevented England from making war upon our Union and in behalf of the rebels. It was proper under the circumstances for the American Government to make this disavowal—but under the threats of England and the attitude of war she had assumed it was humiliating to our nation.—The American people in view of this matter said, and will continue to say: IF WE FORGET THIS UNNECESSARY AND UNCALLED FOR BRITISH INSOLENCE, MAY OUR RIGHT HANDS FORGET THEIR CUNNING AND OUR TONGUES CLEAVE TO THE ROOFS OF OUR MOUTHS.

The question may be here repeated—"WILL THERE BE WAR WITH ENGLAND?" We answer that, AS A NATION, WE ARE NOT ANXIOUS FOR WAR. But we cannot forget a ten[illegible] of British perfidy and insolence, and if continued, she will bring upon the nation a war which compared with that of 1812 on our part will be more disastrous [illegible]. The United States when relieved from the present troubles, will be in a position to accede to other nations [illegible] from their nations—ENGLAND CANNOT BE ALLOWED TO EXCEED the rights she claims for herself. If such a policy leads to war, we say LET IT COME.

THE CALIFORNIA UNION PARTY PLATFORM.—1. Resolved, That we heartily indorse the present National Administration, and hereby pledge ourselves to sustain it in all its efforts to preserve the Union.

2. Resolved, That we are in favor of a vigorous prosecution of the war without regard to cost or sacrifice until the last armed rebel is disarmed and the supremacy of the National Government acknowledged in every State and Territory of the Union.

3. Resolved, That we have no sympathy with any party or person who advocates a peace on any terms while there is an enemy of the Union in open rebellion against the Government; and that such a peace would prove to be but a hollow truce, leading again to rebellion and war, and would be a lasting disgrace to our nation and country.

4. Resolved, That every citizen of the United States owes an allegiance to the National Government that is paramount to his allegiance to any State; and that any other doctrine would be repugnant to the Constitution and to every principle upon which our Government is founded.

5. Resolved, That since the inauguration of the present National Administration, all issues heretofore dividing the loyal people of the different political parties have been settled, and the only issue now before the nation is Union or Disunion.

6. Resolved, That we call upon all loyal citizens of the State to unite with us in a Union party which shall place California where she of right belongs—high in the rank of States ready to sacrifice all to preserve the rich heritage of liberty, bequeathed to us by our forefathers.

The County Clerk of Coos County has refused to canvass the votes given in that County for State Senator, upon the ground that an election had been advertised by the Governor at another time than the general election, and therefore he assumes that the votes cast for Senator at the late election were illegal.—The vacancy in this office occurred at the time Capt. Tichnor accepted the appointment of Indian Agent, and it was notorious among the people of that district, that the Senatorial seat which he had previously held, immediately became vacant upon that acceptance. The person chosen at the last election will undoubtedly be admitted to his seat, and whether his right shall be contested or not, permitted to retain it.

A large fish, weighing 1[illegible]00 pounds, and measuring 14 feet long and 20 inches through the thickest part, was captured on the mud flat in front of Olympia one day last week.

Our State Treasury has now over $35,000 on hand, and no outstanding orders to meet.—This sum is more than sufficient to pay our allotment of the war tax, or if appropriated to pay the expenses of the Legislature as is likely will cover all needful appropriation and leave a balance.

The address of the "democratic" members of Congress to the people of the United States was not signed by any member from the Pacific coast except O Shiel, and he is at the tail end of the list.

COUNCIL — Council met last evening, [illegible] Risley in the chair All present except Councilman Breck

A petition was received from Messrs. Starr & Green, praying for privilege to construct [illegible] across foot of Stark street Read and referred.

Communication from the Mayor relative to [illegible] of damage done to streets by inundation. Read and referred to appropriate committee.

Resolution adopted to fire salute on Fourth of July.

Ordinance to establish a grade on Washington street, between Second and Park streets, [illegible] first time

Resolution introduced instructing the City Surveyor to survey Ash, Pine, Oak Stark, [illegible], Morrison Yamhill, Taylor, Salmon, [illegible], Madison Jefferson, Columbia, Clay, [illegible], Mill, Montgomery, Harrison, Hall, [illegible], Jackson and South streets from Front [illegible] Park streets and B, C, D, and 8 streets [illegible] Addition) for the purpose of determining proper grades therefor, including the [illegible] at right angles Laid over under rule [illegible] President

Report of Committee on City Jail recommending that the same be repaired, recommendation adopted

[illegible] PANORAMA—Was on exhibition yesterday afternoon to a very fair audience principally composed of ladies and school children, affording much delight to the latter [illegible], and which no doubt will be long remembered by them We were truly pleased to see [illegible] youths at the exhibition, thus afford[illegible] an opportunity to realize more fully the [illegible] de of the cities and general scenes represented, and presenting, as it were, a tangible evidence of the immense scenic and natural curiosities and wonders of [illegible] world, than can be impressed upon [illegible] minds from the common lessons given [illegible] school geographies and histories [illegible] Perry, the gentlemanly and intelligent proprietor and delineator, took especial pains to explain and instruct the children in the [illegible] outline, situation, and magnitude of [illegible] scenes represented, and it was truly gratifying to see the interest and attention [illegible] ted throughout the whole scene One exhibition of this kind is worth more to the [illegible] people of our city than a hundred fool[ish] imaginative representations, usually [illegible] at the Theater.

In consequence of the rain no exhibition [illegible] last night, but the Panorama will [illegible] exhibited on Friday evening, provided weather will admit, notice of which [illegible], will be given

Items.

The late Governor General of Canada, Sir Edmund Head, has refused the Governorship of Bombay, at £12,500 sterling per annum, in consequence of the climate not being likely to agree with Lady Head Isn't he a considerate husband?

At the commencement of a late term of the Supreme Court in Boston there were on the docket no less than one hundred and fifty cases of divorce Many of them had their origin in spiritualism

The Wheeling Intelligencer says all the merchants of that city, with one exception, have taken the oath of allegiance One physician enjoying a large practice, gave it up rather than take the oath

We have got possession of so many of the railroads and rivers of the South that the rebels can't long feed their armies The rebellion, if not another blow were struck, would soon die of a collapse of the belly

The islands of the East Indies have been troubled throughout the spring by heavy earthquakes In the island of Sumo, all of the houses were destroyed, and 800, out of 1,100 inhabitants, killed

Hon Robert J Walker thinks the result of the rebellion is to be of immense value to the country It will give confidence at home and command respect from abroad Mr Walker is firm in the opinion that amnesty to the deluded masses, and exile to the leaders, is the only thing that will settle the matter after the struggle of armies is over

A number of years ago a free black man of Washington raised sufficient money to purchase a black woman By her he has since raised a family of six or seven children As by the law of the District the child follows the condition of the mother, of course these children are his slaves He has, therefore, filed his claim, and asked payment from the Government, valuing his "picaninnies" at $300 each

The question of dress is greatly agitating London at present A rule was made that none should appear at the inauguration of the International Exhibition excepting in full court dress with knee breeches and sword — This was so unpopular that it was afterwards modified to allow gentlemen to appear in ordinary evening dress, but on condition that they should occupy the back seats, and allow the bedizzened diplomats and court officials to sit in front.

The debt of Mexico to the allied powers is stated in round numbers as follows "To England $75,000,000, to Spain, $10,000,000, to France $5,000 "

The rebel Congress is taunted by its own organs with having adjourned for the sole purpose of enabling its members to secure their personal safety by flight.

The Richmond Dispatch complains that rebel soldiers have been buried in that city before they were dead. We don't know that there was anything wrong in it.

"NOT CONVENIENT"—The Puget Sound Herald tells of a learned divine who recently delivered a discourse at Seattle, on the Jewish rite of circumcision, in which he very wisely said —"The males were circumcised, but the females were not, and why? Because it was not convenient "

The Medical and Surgical Institute of DR L J CZAPKAY is already secured in a position which places it, as well as its proprietor far above the assaults of envy and professional malice. In the schools of France, the highest prizes are often awarded to practitioners in this department of medical science, and they occupy with others, an equally lofty position in the profession Ricord is an illustrious example, a shining light among the philosophical stars of his age in Europe, and Dr Czapkay has fully equalled him in this country as a proof of which, the Philadelphia College of Medicine complimented him with a Diploma and the honorary ad eundem degree Selecting this as his field of operation, although qualified as a graduate of the University of Pesth, and late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army for more extended labors, Dr L J Czapkay has bent his earnest attention to the cure of chronic and private diseases, in which he has become so great an expert that he is now regarded as the LEADER in this branch of his profession throughout the United States and his portrait and biography are published as matter of interest to their readers in the most exclusive Journals The Doctor's offices are at his Medical and Surgical Institute, on Sacramento street, corner of Leidesdorff nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, San Francisco We ask particular attention of our readers to the sworn certificates of remarkable cures, in another column of this paper Persons not wishing to lose time in corresponding, please enclose $10 in their letters, and they will get immediate attention to their cases Address, L J CZAPKAY M D., San Francisco, Cal. june26dawly

Coughs.—The sudden changes of our climate are sources of PULMONARY, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to Brown's Bronchial Troches " or Lozenges let the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off PUBLIC SPEAKERS and SINGERS will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice See advertisement

A GLORIOUS LAND

Our Country—its a glorious land!
With broad arms stretched to every shore
The proud Pacific chafes her strand
She hears the dark Atlantic's roar
And nurtured on her ample breast,
How many a goodly prospect lies
In Nature's wildest grandeur drest,
Enameled with her loveliest dyes.

Rich prairies decked with flowers of gold
Like sunlit oceans roll afar
Broad lakes her azure heavens behold,
Reflecting clear each trembling star
And mighty rivers, mountain born
Go sweeping onward dark and deep
Through forests where the bounding fawn
Beneath their sheltering branches leap

And cradling mid her clustering hills,
Sweet vales in dreamlike beauty hide
Where love the air with music fills
And calm content and peace abide
For plenty here her fullness pours
In rich profusion o'er the land
And sent to seize her generous store
There prowls no tyrant's hireling band

Great God! we thank thee for this home—
This bounteous birth land of the free,
Where wanderers from afar may come
And breathe the air of liberty!
Still may her flowers untrampled spring,
Her harvest wave her cities rise
And yet, till time shall fold his wing
Remain earth's loveliest paradise!

THE SHARPSHOOTERS BEFORE YORKTOWN.—There is an old chap in the Berdan Sharpshooters known as "old Seth." He is quite a character, and is a crack shot—one of the best of the regiment. His "instrument," as he calls it, "is one of the heaviest telescope rifles. The other night at roll call, "old Seth" was non est. This was somewhat unusual, as the old chap was always up to time. A sergeant went out to hunt him up, he being somewhat fearful that the old man had been hit. After perambulating around in advance of the picket line, he heard a low "halloo." "Who's there?" inquired the sergeant. "It's me," responded Smith, "and I've captured a secesh gun." "Bring it along," said the sergeant. "Can't do it," exclaimed Seth.

It soon became apparent to the sergeant that "old Seth" had the exact range of one of the enemies heaviest guns, and they could not load it for fear of being picked off by him. Again the old man shouted: "Fetch me a couple of haversacks full of grub, as this is my gun, and the cussed varmints shan't fire it agin while the scrimmage lasts." This was done, and the old patriot has kept good watch over that gun. In fact, it is a captured gun."

The rebels are very carful of their lives. The other day the sharpshooters on the extreme left of the line, kept the enemy from using a gun. They did not dare to load it. They got a colored man on their ramparts by force, which could be plainly seen by our troops, and compelled him to load the gun. It was life or death with him. He commenced to load when one of the sharpshooters picked him off. It was a "justifiable homicide," as the gun might have killed several of our men, as it was in easy range.—Cor Phil. Inquirer.

With a child, we must not ask sublime forgiveness of injuries—that which would be glorious in a man, in a boy would be pusillanimity; but you must content yourself, at first with prohibiting tyranny. Do not ask your child to sacrifice all enjoyment for the sake of others, but let him learn first, not to enjoy at the expense or the disadvantage or suffering of another.

At the consultation of the rebel Generals in Fort Donelson, before the surrender, Floyd said:

"Gentlemen, do what you please, but the fort must not be surrendered with me in it, if it should, I know I must be hung."

It is gartifying to perceive that the selfishness of the man does not prevent him from seeing the justice of the punishment in store for him.

SEWING MACHINES

ARE UNEQUALED BY ANY FOR BEAUTY AND SIMPLICITY OF CONSTRUCTION
—AND—
Efficiency in Working.

A GOOD SEWING MACHINE

SHOULD BE WELL MADE simple in its construction, and easily kept in order, should make a TIGHT LOCK STITCH alike on both sides of the material and should sew any and all materials that can be sewed.

It should be able to use cotton, thread or silk directly from the spool and sew from coarse to fine, and from thick to thin with rapidity and without changing the tension. It should also be able to make the tension [illegible] outside [illegible] and upper threads and with uniformity and should have a straight needle, curved ones being liable to break

The needle should have perpendicular motion—this is absolutely necessary for heavy work

It should be able to bind with a binder, hem with a hemmer, should stitch, fell, run and gather, and should be always ready to work

It should be capable of using the same size thread on both sides of the work and of using different colored thread or silk above and below to correspond with any two colors of cloth to be united

It should be able to make a long or short stitch and to fasten off the seam and commence sewing tightly at the first stitch and to run easily and make but little noise

It should have a wheel feed—no others are in constant contact with the work

It should not be liable to get out of order, neither should it require a screw driver or wrench to set the needle

It should not be liable to oil the operator's dress

It should not form a ridge on the under side or ravel.

O, all ye senses the [illegible] cause,
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws

To the Afflicted:

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret diseases—Self Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all stages, Seminal Weakness, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, diseases of the Kidney and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Pains in the Bones and Ankles, [illegible] Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body, Cancers, Dropsy, Epileptic Fits, St. Vitus Dance, diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual [illegible] Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory [illegible] General Weakness, Dimness of Vision [illegible] Loss of [illegible] [illegible] Liver Diseases, Eruptions [illegible] the Back and Head, Female Irregularities [illegible]

[illegible]

Self-abuse is another formidable enemy to health, for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system—drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering down to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system, rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, [illegible] society [illegible] the sufferer [illegible] mind [illegible] [illegible]
